

CONTENTS

Invitation	11
Chapter 1 – OPINIONS REGARDING THE ESSENCE OF INTEGRATION IN EUROPE AND GLOBALIZATION	13
1.1. Integration in Europe – a main component of globalization.....	14
1.1.1. What is globalization?	14
1.1.2. What is the regionalization of world economy?	19
1.1.3. What stages occurred in the economic integration in Europe?	23
1.2. Globalization and the satisfaction of national interests	30
1.2.1. The relation between the objective base of globalization and the satisfaction of national interests.....	31
1.2.2. Subordinating globalization to the interests of USA and other developed countries generates reactions from the countries affected.....	32
1.2.3. Neither should Romania sacrifice its interests on the stake of globalization	37
1.3. In the context of globalization has capitalism become an obsolete system or is it still viable?.....	40
1.3.1. How was the viability of capitalism in the developed countries?.....	41
1.3.2. Might the problems capitalism is confronted with at world level be solved?.....	44
1.3.3. How could Romania be directed to an efficient and viable capitalism?	50
Chapter 2 – POLITICAL PREMISES OF ROMANIA'S INTEGRATION IN EUROPE	53
2.1. Political premises of România's integration in Europe.....	54
2.1.1. The necessity of an adequate evaluation of Romania's geo- strategic position in the context of globalization.....	54
2.1.2. The change of political regime and the necessity of consolidating the state of law	58
2.1.3. Provision of the rights of ethnic minorities in Romania and of the Romanians abroad	62
2.1.4. The dissemination of anti-social deeds and the necessity of consolidating the authority of the state	68
2.2. Strategy should – and could – be substantially improved.....	72

2.2.1. MTS should make the increase of the efficiency of Romanian economy the priority number 1	72
2.2.2. MTS should determine a rigorous correlation of the real and nominal economies	76
2.2.3. MTS should assure the substantial limitation of Romania's economic differences from EU countries	79
2.3. The national plan of regional development should-and could-be substantially improved!	83
2.3.1. The deepening of inter-counties differences in the post-socialist period	84
2.3.2. Organizing the country in development regions does not offer premises for attenuation of inter-counties differences	88
2.3.3. The attenuation of the territorial differences is not possible without on adequate involvement of the counties	90

Chapter 3 – ECONOMIC PREMISES OF ROMANIA'S INTEGRATION IN EUROPEAN UNION	95
3.1. Large differences of Romania regarding the economic level	96
3.1.1. The imperative of limiting the differences regarding our country's economic level.....	96
3.1.2. Without a high rate of economic growth Romania's differences from the EU states cannot be eliminated	101
3.1.3. Possibilities of achieving a long-term sustained economic growth.....	103
3.2. What are the factors that hinder a rigorous economic growth in Romania?	106
3.2.1. A huge waste of economic resources	106
3.2.2. Obsolete economic structures	108
3.2.3. An economic mechanism with low functioning	112
3.2.4. Orienting our country to an obsolete capitalism.....	114
3.3. The imperative of an efficient economic and social system	117
3.3.1. The ambiguity of the objective „transition from a planned economy to the market economy“	118
3.3.2. Shaping Romanian transition toward an anachronous capitalism ..	120
3.3.3. The imperative of re-orienting Romania's post-socialist transition to a modern capitalism	124
3.4. An important – though underestimated – potential o economic resources 128
3.4.1. An endowment with prime resources superior to most European countries	129

3.4.2. The imperative of stopping the waste of economic resources ...	133
3.4.3. Possible ways to make the utilization of the available labor resources efficient	138
3.5. Imperative of substantial limitation of the differences regarding the utilization of labor resources	142
3.5.1. Similarities and dissimilarities regarding employment (occupation) and unemployment	142
3.5.2. Differences regarding the sector structure of labor force employment	145
3.5.3. Differences regarding labor productivity	148
3.6. Orientation of our external trade in concordance with our national interests	151
3.6.1. Maintenance of Europe's predominance in Romania's external trade, not neglecting the with other non-European countries	152
3.6.2. The necessity of some re-considerations regarding the orientation of Romania's trade with European countries	156

Chapter 4 – THE IMPERATIVE OF A SUSTAINED
DEVELOPMENT OF THE ECONOMIC RELATIONSHIPS
BETWEEN ROMANIA AND THE REPUBLIC OF MOLDAVIA.. 161

4.1. Premises of the economic relations between the two Romanian states	162
4.1.1. Their common belonging to the Romanian ethnical group	162
4.1.2. Experiencing a mutual historical transition	165
4.1.3. Differentiation that might give an impulse to our mutual economic relations	169
4.2. The trade relations between the two Romanian states should – and could – become a priority!	176
4.2.1. The dynamics of the mutual external trade maintained much under possibilities	176
4.2.2. Perpetuation of some unbalanced trade balances	179
4.2.3. The material structure of our mutual external trade is insufficiently adequate	182
4.2.4. The connection of the external trade of the two Romanian states to the European economic integration	186
4.3. Possibilities of economic cooperation between the two Romanian states should not be underestimated but ever more evaluated	190
4.3.1. Conditions that could favor the economic cooperation between the two Romanian states	191

4.3.2. Possible domains of the România's economic cooperation with RM	193
4.3.3. The investments should become the main support for the development of the economic cooperation between the two Romanian states	198

Chapter 5 – REQUIREMENTS AND POSSIBILITIES REGARDING ROMANIA'S PREPARATION FOR ITS INTEGRATION IN EU

Chapter 5 – REQUIREMENTS AND POSSIBILITIES REGARDING ROMANIA'S PREPARATION FOR ITS INTEGRATION IN EU	201
5.1. The alignment of Romanian agriculture to community standards – the heaviest issue of integration	202
5.1.1. The deepened of Romania's differences regarding the output obtained in agriculture.....	202
5.1.2. The unnatural evolution of the trade in agricultural and food produces with EU.....	205
5.1.3. Possibilities of modernizing Romania's agriculture in the perspective of its integration in EU.....	209
5.2. The imperative of stopping our country's industry destruction and efficient-making industrial activity	212
5.2.1. Industry destruction generated serious inner effects.....	213
5.2.2. The destruction of industry deepened the economic differences of Romania from EU	217
5.2.3. The destruction of industry generated big deficits and asymmetries in Romania's trade relations with EU	221
5.2.4. The determining role the political factor has in preparing Romanian industry for our country's integration in EU	225
5.3. Without the liquidation of infrastructure underdevelopment, Romania cannot become competitive in EU!	228
5.3.1. The imperative of attenuating the discrepancies regarding the main transport ways	228
5.3.2. The necessity of extending some networks of distributing utilities and ameliorating the situation in rural areas.....	232
5.3.3. The imperative of attenuating the differences in the field of communications	236
5.3.4. The sustained development of infrastructures could be a great chance for the re-enforcement of Romania's economy	239
5.4. The recovery of monetary-currency system – an essential condition of our national economy re-enforcement	242

5.4.1. The imperative of a rigorous correlation between the dynamics of consumer prices and the dynamics of GDP ...	242
5.4.2. The necessity to stop the depreciation of the exchange rate of the leu and „dollarization“ of our national economy	248
5.4.3. Possibilities to recover our monetary-currency system should be evaluated through adequate policies	254
5.5. The necessity of consolidating the capital market and making it functional	257
5.5.1. Tendencies of the process of forming a capital market in post-socialist Romania	258
5.5.2. The credit market has not yet become a supporting pillar of real economy.....	263
5.5.3. The insufficiency of bank resources destined to investments and the fragility of the market for their evaluation.....	269

Chapter 6 – ROMANIA'S PARTICIPATION AT CEFTA SHOULD BE SUBSTANTIALLY IMPROVED!..... 275

6.1. Comparative situation of Romania within CEFTA	276
6.1.1. Large discrepancies regarding Romania's place	276
6.1.2. A very persistent economic involution	279
6.1.3. A low level of participation at the international economic relations.....	282
6.2. The place of CEFTA in ROMANIA'S external trade with Europe	285
6.2.1. The differentiation of the dynamics of the external trade in disfavor of Romanian trade	285
6.2.2. The growth of CEFTA weight only in Romania's imports	288
6.2.3. The deepening of the disequilibrium in our trade balance.....	290
6.3. The structure of Romania's trade with CEFTA	293
6.3.1. An unfavorable tendency of the general structure	294
6.3.2. A completely unnatural evolution of the trade in produces	296
6.3.3. The perpetuation of a low competitiveness in the trade in industrial products.....	301

Chapter 7 –ROMANIA'S ECONOMIC RELATIONS WITH THE COUNTRIES BELONGING TO THE BLACK SEA AREA SHOULD BE DEVELOPED ADEQUATE TO ITS GEOGRAPHICAL POSITION 307

7.1. The comparative situation of Romania's economy in the Black Sea Area	308
--	-----

7.1.1. The place 4 among the six countries neighbouring the Black Sea, but a relatively more favorable level	308
7.1.2. An economic involution similar with the one in the other ex-socialist countries in this area	310
7.1.3. A competitive capacity differentiated according to the other BSA countries	314
7.2. The place of the Black Sea Area within Romania's external trade	317
7.2.1. A turnover to the detriment of our export	318
7.2.2. The perpetuation of a large difference regarding BSA's place in Romania's exports and imports	320
7.2.3. The deepening of the lack of equilibrium in our trade balance	323
7.3. The structure of our trade with countries neighboring the Black Sea	327
7.3.1. A general structure still insufficiently economically based	327
7.3.2. A trade in agricultural and food produces much under Romania's possibilities	329
7.3.3. The perpetuation of a big discrepancy in our trade in industrial products	333
7.4. The imperative of enforcing Romania's sea transport	339
7.4.1. The necessity and the possibility of re-marking our merchant fleet	339
7.4.2. The place of maritime transport in the total transport of goods.....	343
7.4.3. How could the growth of the degree of utilization of the capacity of our commercial fleet be assured?	345
7.5. A great potential for international tourism still insufficiently evaluated	349
7.5.1. The place of BSA in Romania's international tourism	349
7.5.2. The perpetuation of big discrepancies in tourist flows	351
7.5.3. The necessity and possibility of an increased evaluation of our tourist potential on the Black Sea side.....	354

Appendix - A VIEW INTO THE CONTENTS OF THIS BOOK IN OTHER LANGUAGES	359
LA ROUMANIE SUR LA VOIE DE L'INTÉGRATION ÉCONOMIQUE EUROPEENE: premisses, processuses, politiques.....	361
RUMÄNIEN AUF DEM WEG DER EUROPÄISCHEN ÖKONOMISCHEN INTEGRATION: Voraussetzungen, Prozesse, Politiken..	365
ROMANIA SULLA VIA DELL'INTEGRAZIONE ECONOMICA EUROPEA: premesse, processi, politiche	369